

Web of Science Training Program

Training on 'How to use Web of Science Database' was mutually organized on 18th April 2023 by the Faculty of Library & Information Science and Central Library, Parul University in collaboration with Clarivate.

Training Specialist Mr Vishav Sharma, Regional Solutions Consultant from Clarivate was invited to share his precious knowledge about the database with us. Around 60+ faculties took advantage of this Training.

Mr Vishav Sharma successfully conveyed the importance web of Science Database and guided the participants on the way to register in Web of Science and get the benefit, also guide them on how it is useful for research work. After the session, the query session also arranges, so many questions are asked by the audience and he was given the answer related to the Web of Science.

At the end of the session Dr, Dhavalben Bhatt, Chief Librarian of Parul University, gave a token of thanks to Mr Vishav Sharma, who delivered important information about the Web of Science and also thanks the faculties of Parul University to attend the helpful training program.