Q.1 Do as directed.(08)

A. As an English Language Teacher read the following passage and prepare 16 MCQs on tenses.

The tense of a verb indicates the time of an action or event.

The word "tense" comes from Latin word tempus which means time.

Read the following sentences.

1. I write the letter now.
2. I wrote the letter yesterday.
3. I shall write the letter tomorrow.

The first sentence says that I write the letter at this moment.

That means that the time of the action of writing the letter is now.

This sentence is in present tense.

The tense which refers to the present time is said to be in present tense.

The second sentence says that I wrote the letter yesterday.

That means that the time of the action of writing the letter is yesterday.

This sentence is in past tense.

The tense which refers to the past time is said to be in past tense.

The third sentence says that I shall write the letter tomorrow.

That means that the time of the action of writing the letter is tomorrow.

This sentence is in future tense.

The tense which refers to the future time is said to be in future tense.

There are four forms of tenses in each one of the three tenses.
